Re: repeating the first year of first-cycle (Engineer's) studies

For students who have failed to pass the first year of the first-cycle studies, there is a one-off possibility of repeating the year according to the attachment, i.e. completing and paying only for the subjects not passed.

The attachment is calculated as a sum of fees for the subjects not passed during the whole year divided into 10 equal instalments.

If the student again fails to be promoted to the second year of the first-cycle studies, he/she will have to sign a new contract and repeat the whole first year of studies at the full tuition fee, regardless of the number of previously passed subjects.

The regulation comes into force on September 1, 2022.
