Re.: selection of a second speciality area, change of speciality area, and thesis Supervisor.

In accordance with the Study Regulations:

§1

1. Upon Student's request, the Dean may allow for the completion of a second speciality area. The permission is granted for a specific period, and in the event of a lack of credits for particular speciality area courses, it may be revoked.
2. For withdrawing from the additional speciality area within the deadline, a processing fee is applicable according to the fee schedule (Chancellor's Regulation on Tuition).

§2

1. In the case of pursuing two speciality areas, the Student is obligated to write and submit two theses. The Student will take the diploma exam twice but will receive one diploma supplement (with the leading speciality area).
2. The Student will receive an entry in the diploma supplement for the leading speciality area and a certificate for the second speciality area.
3. The condition for taking the diploma exam is the completion of the study program (including passing all courses) related to one speciality area and the completion of the thesis.
4. Students who have declared an additional speciality area may take the diploma exam if they have met the above conditions, even if they have failed courses in the additional speciality area. These Students should, before the diploma exam, submit an application for enrollment in the next semester to complete these courses and defend the additional thesis.

§3

Change of speciality area or Supervisor:

1. A change of the speciality area is possible before the beginning of the semester, by the deadline specified in a separate Dean's Regulation regarding the submission of student applications with declarations of classes for the next semester. The Student is obligated to notify the current Supervisor of this change, and, in the event of a simultaneous change in the thesis Supervisor, the Student must obtain the new Supervisor's consent to supervise the thesis.
2. If there are any differences in the curriculum due to a change of speciality area, the Student is required to complete those requirements.
3. The Dean may not agree to a change of speciality area.
4. A change of the Supervisor is possible until the end of the 3rd week of classes from the beginning of the semester.
5. If the Student wishes to change their Supervisor after the final semester of their studies, when they have to apply for an additional semester of the Final Seminar classes (the ITN mode), they must agree on a new thesis topic with the newly selected Supervisor. In exceptional circumstances, the Dean may allow the thesis topic to be continued.
